Three Killed By Leaking Gas

Victims Found In Home

Heater Blamed In Tragedy

Gas from a hot water heater in the basement of a Rittman home early Sunday was fatal to three persons, including a Mansfield man, and caused the serious illness of a second Mansfielder.

Hugh Marland Allen, 32, Club hotel, East Fourth street, died in General hospital at 7:40 a. m. today. Mr. Allen was brought to Mansfield about 1:30 a. m. today after being first admitted to the Wadsworth hospital.

The other victims were Elva Singleton, 41, and his wife, Myrtle, 48, of Rittman.

Allen and his roommate, Lurtie James, 36, also of Mansfield, were visiting the Singletons over the week end. They were last seen about 9 p. m., Saturday.

FIND BODIES

When the Singletons failed to appear yesterday noon at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Catherine Harness, of Rittman, she went to their home and found them dead. Allen and James were unconscious. James is still in critical condition in the Wadsworth hospital.

Coroner L. A. Adair of Wayne county said the Singletons had been dead about 11 hours. He said their deaths apparently resulted from monoxide gas since the heater had no outside vent.

Allen was born in Gilmer county, W. Va., April 12, 1916, coming to Mansfield two and a half years ago. He was employed as an enamel sprayer at the Westinghouse plant. He was a veteran of World War II, having served for six years in the navy.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Allen of Frametown, W. Va.; one sister, Mrs. Treva Prion of Mansfield; six brothers, Walter of Mansfield, Harry, Travis and Wilfred at the home in Frametown, Clarence with the army and Forest of Charleston, W. Va.

The body will be taken from the Wappner funeral home tomorrow to Frametown where services will be held Thursday with burial at Burnsville, W. Va. Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home here tonight.

Review Jap Convictions

TOKYO—(AP)—Only two representatives of the 11-nations forming the far eastern commission dissented today to the Tokyo war trials verdicts. The other nine said the verdicts satisfied them.

B. N. Chakravarty of India and Baron E. J. Lewe Van Arnard of the Netherlands supported the dissenting opinions of the judges on the international tribunal from their countries.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, allied occupation commander, called the representatives together to discuss the verdict of the court which sentenced former Premier Hidki Tojo and six others to hang, 16 to life terms and two to shorter prison sentences.

The Indian judge, R. B. Pal, had expressed the opinion all of the 25 Japanese defendants should be freed. The Netherlands judge, Bernard Victor A. Roling, had said some of the death sentences were too severe. Only Gen. Kuzma N. Derevyanko of Russia and Gen. Chen Shang of China would talk after the meeting with MacArthur.

Strikers Go Back To School Rooms

AKRON, — (AP) — Classes resumed on a normal basis today at Twinsburg high school. Superintendent Glen Powell, target of a three-day strike by the students last week, said only eight pupils were absent. Asked whether the controversy had been straightened out, Powell replied: "I don't know.

NOTED AUTHOR DIES

LONDON —(AP)— Alfred Edward Woodley Mason, 83, author of "The Four Feathers" and many other novels and plays, died today at his Mayfair home.

Wine, Gals, Song Ruled Out For GI's

VIENNA —(INS)— Vienna'a traditional wine, women and song were "off limits" to GI's today in a new U. S. army campaign—"operation virtue."

Lieut Col. Robin Neuer, senior Catholic chaplain of U. S. forces in Austria, explained that the new operation is an offensive calculated to defend the health and morals of young soldiers and officers.

To substitute for the curvacious cuteness and inviting smiles of Vienna's lilting fraulleins, the army is launching a pin-up poster campaign featuring eye-catching American girls.

Canadians Back U. S. On Stand

Would Admit Israel to U. N.

PARIS — (INS) — Canada joined the United States today in urging international recognition of Israel and the admission of the Jewish state into the United Nations.

Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson told the United Nations Political committee that it will not do the Arabs any service by encouraging them to continue efforts to destroy Israel by force of arms.

Pearson appealed to the Arabs to face the fact that Israel is a firmly established state.

His speech marked a turning point in Canadian policy, which has until now tended to follow Britain in upholding the Arab position.

But the Canadian warned Israel against asking for both the entire Vegev area and the territory in the north it has taken by force of arms. He said:

"The Jewish state must, not only in its relations with its neighbors, but also with the international community of which it becomes a part, place self-imposed limits on its demands."

He rgued that Israel must either abide by the partition plan, or negotiate new territorial boundaries. This is the position taken by U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup in his speech Saturday.

Like Jessup also, Pearson said that the settlement plan of the late Count Folke Bernadotte can be used as a basis for negotiations.

Meanwhile Russia blamed the United States and Britain for "present unsettled conditions in Palestine."

Soviet Delegate Semen Tsarapkin told the United Nations Political committee that the late Count Folke Bernadotte was a tool of "the Anglo-American combined chiefs of staff and oil monopolies."

Tsarapkin charged that Bernadotte's plan to give the Negev to Trans-Jordan was designed to enable British forces to retain the largest part of the Holy Land.

He termed Trans-Jordan, which receives a British military subsidy, a "puppet kingdom."

Blooming Shrubs Think It's Spring!

No, it isn't spring, although blooming plants and shrubs in and around Mansfield might give you that idea.

The unseasonably mild weather this fall has produced green leaves, buds, and even flowers on plants in this vicinity.

Mrs. Philip Keller of 1 Arnold drive, which is just west of Mansfield, has pussy willows at her home with new leaves and buds. Some of the pussy willows have the little furry blooms which ordinarily do not appear until March.

Mrs. Keller also has a flowering shrub whose red buds are about ready to burst into bloom.

Snow Yields Two Bodies

Midwest Cities 'Digging Out'

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— The Great Plains region counted its dead from a three-day snowstorm at eight today.

The storm, which whipped across a strip of the Great Plains from eastern Colorado to Minnesota, blew itself out Saturday but clearing of snow-clogged roads and towns were still continuing in some areas today.

Five of the deaths occurred in Nebraska and three in Kansas.

Hundreds of motorists were marooned and trains and buses were stalled. Electric power and communications were disrupted. Some schools closed.

Yesterday snowplows uncovered the body of Mrs. Hal Laughlin, 30, of Jetmore, Kas., about a mile from where her automobile had stalled. She had been sought since Thursday. Her car stalled near Dodge City in western Kansas.

The body of Lester M. Carson, 38, McCook, Neb., also was found yesterday in his snow-covered car eight miles west of Oberlin in northwest Kansas. Another death reported last night was that of John H. Haun, 48, a truck operator who died of exhaustion from shoveling snow in O'Neill, Neb.

The heavy snow stalled a number of passenger trains. Snowplows, buckling through drifts as high as 15 feet, had cleared all the mainline tracks by today.

Annual Drive Started

Tot, 3, Sells First Seals to Mayor

A three-year-old lad in red flannel pajamas sold Mayor Roy W. Vaughn the first sheet of 1948 Christmas seals today as the 42nd annual seal drive got under way. The goal is $14,500.

Robin Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Montgomery, 156 West Second street, was chosen "salesman" because he closely resembled the boy pictured on this year's seal. Richard, Wolford, president of the Richland County Tuberculosis association said.

The 1948 Seal features a pajama-clad child seated before a blazing fireplace, waiting patiently for the arrival of Santa Claus.

The Tuberculosis association today mailed 19,000 envelopes containing Christmas seals to Mansfield and Richland county residents.

FINANCES WORK

Proceeds from the seal sale, which closes Dec. 25, will make possible the Richland Tuberculosis association's 1949 tuberculosis prevention and control program.

"Many county residents will make the seals their first Christmas purchase," Wolford said. "They realize that the work of the Tuberculosis association, which helps to protect them against the disease, is strengthened with every contribution made through the purchase of Christmas seals."

Mrs. H. C. Brokaw, of Shelby, who headed the mailing committee, said postal authorities in the county had given their "usual wholehearted cooperation" in assisting with the seal mailings.

Shell Fire Hits Rafa

TEL AVIV—(UP)—An Israeli military spokesman reported that the Egyptians were shelling Jewish settlements in the Rafa area, in south Palestine near the coast and the Egyptian border, for the second straight day today.

The shelling of Israeli positions at Imara and Mivtahim caused a number of casualties among the Jews, the military spokesman reported. The Egyptians still hold three points of Rafa which they occupied in the last two days, the spokesman said.

The Egyptians were accused of moving into previously unoccupied positions eight to 10 miles east of their Gaza-Rafa line.

First Flying Machine Home Again

Famed 'Kitty Hawk' Gets Honors Today

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The original flying machine comes here today for honors never received during its inventors' lives. So it may be the time to dust off an ancient document which clarifies what the argument was all about.

It is the Wright brothers tiny biplane of 1903, known as both the "Flyer" and the "Kitty Hawk." It is being trucked into Washington by the Navy after a triumphal tour from London where it was sent in 1928.

The plane will be given a rousing civic welcome. Formal presentation to the Smithsonian institution will be made on Dec. 17, the 45th anniversary of the first flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

It has become habitual to regard the late Orville Wright's long controversy with the Smithsonian as one concerning who first flew an airplane under power. But that is not what kept the famed "Flyer" out of the institution until today.

The question which embroiled national figures here and across the Atlantic was whether the Wright plane was the first CAPABLE of flight.

At hand is some little, if ever, publicized testimony on this point by Orville Wright, who died at his Dayton, O., home on Jan. 30, out-living Wilbur by 36 years. Orville wrote a prominent Washington figure in 1928 that his and Wilbur's "pride was in producing the first man-carrying flying machine rather than in producing the first man flight."

It was not until 1942 that the Smithsonian institution reached the same conclusion That set in motion events which led to the present triumphal return to America.

The "Flyer" now is to take the number one place of honor in the Smithsonian's aircraft collection. This place has been held by Charles A. Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" which becomes number two in a collection including many famous planes. Eventually they will be housed in a new national air museum.

Suchow Battle Raging

Reds Launch New Attack

NANKING —(INS)— The battle for Suchow raged anew today after resurgent communist forces again surrounded the gateway to Nanking and more than 200,000 of its nationalist defenders.

This grave turn in China's civil war coincided with a communist warning to the United States to cease helping immediately the sorely-beset Chiang Kai-Shek government.

Bloody fighting erupted once more around the rail bastion as six communist columns under Gen. Chen Yi returned to the attack yesterday.

Within 24 hours after resuming their offensive the Red forces, according to Nationalist air observers, closed a powerful ring about the city, 175 miles northwest of Nanking.

Within that communist circle two government army groups—the crack Second and the 13th—were trapped and struggling to escape annihilation.

The enveloping communist advance upon Suchow came only a few days after the Nanking government had announced a "complete victory" over the Reds on that flaming front. The nationalists had claimed to have routed the communists after inflicting 130,000 casualties.

In the renewed battle for the heart of China, the Nationalists asserted that setbacks were dealt to the Reds east and south of isolated Suchow.

Thirty-five miles to the east of the vital communications center, the communist siege of the rail town of Janchuan was said to have been broken.

PLEA FOR AID

Fifty miles south of Suchow and only 125 miles north of Nanking, the Nationalist sources claimed a communist drive on Suhsien had been stopped but only after it had swept into that rail city. Bitter fighting prevailed on the streets of Suhsien.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of China's president, has appealed directly to the American people to provide "immediate and definite" aid to the Chinese nationalist government against the communists.

Broadcasting from Nanking, China's first lady declared yesterday. "the present situation in China is indeed gravely critical."

New Clue In Sex Slaying

BOULDER, Colo .— (U.P.) — An unnamed 25-year-old blond man whose wife "put the finger on him" has been "definitely linked" with the savage sex-slaying of Theresa Foster, 18-year-old Colorado university student, Sheriff Arthur Everson said today.

Everson said 10 investigators questioned the man throughout the night and gained "definite evidence linking him with the slaying."

The sheriff said the husky, sullen man was taken into custody after his wife told deputies she had been kept "in constant terror and a virtual prisoner" since the Nov. 9 slaying. She escaped by telling her husband she was going to see a dentist.

The woman collapsed after telling her story. Everson said she was "near hysteria" throughout the questioning and was placed in a private room at the Boulder hospital. Officers arrested the supect yesterday afternoon.

Screen Star, Wife Are Awarded Honors

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—(AP) —Movie star Melvyn Douglas and his wife, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif), are "Mr. and Mrs. American Citizen of 1948," so says Lodge No. 487 of B'Nai B'rith. The couple received the citation last night from Jack Benny at the Lodge's 49th anniversary observance. It read that they "most exemplified Americanism during 1948."

Nation's Top Men Meet on U. S. Policy

(Compiled From Wire Services)

WASHINGTON—Secretary of State George C. Marshall returned home today by plane and was met personally by President Truman to begin momentous foreign policy discussions.

It was raining as the secretary's big plane touched down at National airport at 10:05 a. m. EST after a flight from Paris where he attended the United Nations General Assembly meeting.

President Truman, who drove out to the airport to meet Marshall, was the first to greet the general.

Marshall said it would be "inappropriate" to say anything about United Nation's affairs at this time. Then he added:

"I appreciate tremendously the fact that the President came out to see me, particularly on a day like this."

As for the United Nations meeting, Marshall said, however, that he thought a "great deal of understanding has resulted from what already has happened" at the Paris meeting.

The President and his secretary of state were ready to plunge immediately into discussions of the Berlin blockade, and the urgent problem of what to do about China.

Also to be discussed will be American participation in the North Atlantic Security alliance. Not the least of the subjects under discussion will be Marshall's own future in the cabinet. He has expressed a desire to retire, but the President reportedly wants him to stay.

Marshall said he did not know whether he would return to Paris before the United Nations meeting adjourns next month. However, it was regarded as unlikely.

Diplomatic authorities agreed that China presents Mr. Truman and Marshall with their most urgent—and in some ways most difficult—problem.

3 TOP PROBLEMS

There was no assurance that they would try to reach any short of final conclusions in their first round of talks, but speculation persisted that some kind of statement might be forthcoming.

The principal problems which confront Mr. Truman and Marshall at the moment are:

1. A review of U. S. policy in China in view of recent reverses of the Nationalist forces and Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek's week-end radio appeal for "immediate and definite" aid against the communists.

2. An estimate of needs for the Marshall plan countries in the second year of its operations. New appropriations will be asked of Congress.

3. The projected North Atlantic alliance, drafted by the western Europan union to assure the support of Democratic countries in Europe in event of strife with the Soviet Union. A draft of the proposed pact has been drawn up in London and soon will be submitted to Washington.

Secretary Marshall's future status also will be decided during the conference. Since Mrs. Marshall accompanied her husband from Paris the question was raised whether he would return for the remaining few weeks of the current U.N. General Assembly session.

It was reported that Mr. Truman will ask Marshall to stay in the cabinet for another four years. If Marshall insists on retiring the President is expected to ask for a compromise whereby the secretary would stay in office until the north Atlantic alliance is cleared through Congress.

Brand Two Clergymen Communists

Committee Flays Religious Order

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Two clergymen and two religious organizations were branded communist today by the House Un-American Activities committee.

It also listed the magazine "The Protestant" as one which "fanatically spreads communist propaganda." And it said, without elaboration, that the reds have made inroads into some units of the YMCA, YWCA, the Epworth League and other church organizations.

The statements were made in a committee pamphlet warning that communists would move at once to stamp out religion if they come into power here. It was entitled "100 things you should know about communism and religion."

"In all their plans and actions," the pamphlet said, "the communists mark down religion as enemy no. 1."

The methodist federation for Social Action, with headquarters in New York, was one of the two organization's on the committee's list. While it is not an official church unit, the pamphlet said, "it is trying to use the prestige of the Methodist church to promote the line of the communist party."

It also put the communist tag on the People's Institute of Applied Religion, Birmingham, Ala., which it said has been declared subversive by the justice department. Describing the institute as "one of the most vicious" of communist groups, the pamphlet said "it preaches communist ideas, pretending they are Christian ideas."

The committee named the Rev. Claude C. Williams, director of the institute and a Presbyterian, as an "open type" of communist. It gave the same description to the Rev. Eliot White, a retired Episcopal minister who, it said, has served as a delegate to a communist convention.

Northwestern Wildcats Get Rose Bowl Bid

CHICAGO — (UP) — Northwestern's football team has been named as the Big Nine's representative in the Rose Bowl, Commissioner Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson announced today.

Wilson said that the Wildcat eleven, which won five out of six Big Nine games, was a unanimous choice for the Bowl berth.

Faculty representatives of the nine member schools marked their ballots after Saturday's final games, in which Northwestern defeated Illinois, 20 to 7, and every vote listed Northwestern as the first choice.

ANSWER SATISFACTORY

PARIS—(AP)—Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina said today the Russian answer to his Berlin currency questionnaire "appears to be satisfactory."

Court Affirms Red's Guilt

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the perjury conviction of Harold Christoffel, former union leader who swore before a Congressional Committee that he was not a Communist.

Christoffel is the former president of local 284 of the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) in the Allis-Chalmers' Milwaukee plant.

He was found guilty by a federal district court jury in Washington last March 3 of lying to the House labor committee about his communist affiliations. He denied that he was or ever had been a member of the communist party.

Japs Sentenced

YOKOHAMA — (UP) — An Eighth army military commission sentenced two Japanese colonels to life imprisonment at hard labor today for contributing to the deaths of allied prisoners or war. The officers, Kunji Suzuki and Kaname Sakaba, commanded all prisoner of war camps in the Tokyo area.

Wagner Act Forced Common Man To Join Union Racket Or Do Without

IF YOU WILL try to keep a straight face, not pursing your lips and blowing derisive notes, I will read you something out of the minutes of the Hodcarriers' and Common Laborers' Union, one of Mr. Truman's loyal rackets, with about 250,000 subjects at present.

It lives largely on your taxes because it owns, as though they were beasts, the faceless men who do the heavy work building public roads, conservation and flood control works, sewer and water facilities, airports, schools and hospitals.

Under the Wagner Act and through the U. S. employment service, this racket was a sleeping partner of the government and the Democratic party in the war. The Wagner Act compelled the faceless man to join or go idle.

This meant a $50 initiation fee collected from about a million suckers during the war years. But even today the employment service will not send a stiff to a private job unless he shows his $50 work license from the racket.

I have told you before that for 31 years, until 1941, the mob had not held a convention nor elected a single national officer by vote.

Our scene is the "convention" of 1941 and the boys are about to nominate and "elect" a president for the first time in 31 years. He is the incumbent, Joe Moreschi.

Eventually, Brother Garvey, of Chicago, moved that the chair be directed to dispense with the tedious formality of a formal ballot once every 31 years and direct the secretary to cast a unanimous ballot for Brother Moreschi.

This being done, the great man himself stepped forward amid a spiritual hush, and spoke:

"There is a time to express appreciation of self-gain," he began. "There is a time that we are proud because we have achieved certain personal activities. But my purpose for arising is that you have expressed and exonerated the stain that was cast on our movement (great applause) by unscrupulous-minded people who have no heart for the toilers, who are out for self-gain and not for the cause of humanity. There is no man in any walk of life that I have cause to have grief from. There isn't any human being that I don't try to extend a helping hand—him or her, whomever they may be—for an opportunity of advancement to bring a better understanding to harmonize and progress and safeguard our liberty. This was attacked. This was in the courts falsely discriminating against the men and women who worked for a livelihood.

It caused our taxpayers a great amount of expense to hear these false, unwarranted attacks. They were a challenge to destroy our movement, to turn it over to selfish un-American organizations.

As I look in the stands, I see the enemies of America trying to falsify through their papers propaganda, by circulation of communications attacking the integrity of the workers of this country. I paid no attention. When Jesus Christ was in his last moment, they asked him what he desired to have done. He said 'They don't know any better, so forgive them.' I do the same with them." (Applause and cheers for Moreschi.)

The tendency to self-deification is not peculiar to Mr. Moreschi. F. D. Roosevelt compared his Atlantic Charter to Holy Writ.

Pastor Urges: Teach Good, Bad In Comics

Children should be taught a discriminating and defensive faith as far as comic books are concerned, Rev. John G. Gensel told his congregation at the St. Paul Lutheran church yesterday morning.

Taking as his subject, "Let's Take a Look at the Funnies," Rev. Gensel pointed out that children will not know how to choose the right from the wrong "funnies" if they have been taught only the bad angle.

"Parents should sit down and talk it over with their children," Rev. Gensel declared. "Both will learn from such a conference. The responsibility rests on the parents who buy the books not on the children."

Rev. Gensel thinks definitely that, in connection with the learning of discrimination, trashy and sexy books should be eliminated.

N. Y. Truckers Out on Strike

NEW YORK—(UP)—Some 2,000 truck drivers who handle railroad freight went on strike today further hampering the city's commerce, already plagued by a walkout of 65,000 AFL longshoremen which has tied up shipping from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va.

The truckers, members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL), struck against some 3,000 small freight concerns, demanding a 22½ cents hourly wage increase. The owners have offered 20½ cents.

Meanwhile, federal mediators scheduled new meetings between shipowners and members of the International Longshoremen's association (AFL) in an effort to work out a compromise settlement of the 13-day-old maritime walkout.

This Prowler Leaves Clue

A red and black plaid cap, lost by a prowler at a Ridgewood road home Saturday night, was held today by sheriff's deputies for clues to the possible identity of the intruder.

Deputies said the prowler was reported at 8:50 p. m. Saturday by Howard Marriott who said the trespasser "left in such a hurry that he lost his cap."

Deputies searched the vicinity but failed to find the prowler.

New Reference Books Ready

A set of the new revised Encyclopaedia Britannica is now available at Mansfield Public Library, Miss Anna Jean Evans, reference librarian, announced today.

This current printing, recently purchased by the library, contains 24 volumes averaging more than 1,000 pages each and illustrated with maps, drawings, photographs, and full-color plates. An atlas is included in the index volume which serves as a guide to the other volumes.

Articles in the encyclopaedia were written by 4,000 authorities from 62 different countries, Miss Evans said.

She explained that the set is as up-to-date as possible because the Britannica is continually revised.

Speedy Motorists Keep Officer Busy

Mansfield Patrolman Earl Korn is a one-man threat to those night-time road burners who seem to forget about red lights and speed zones.

Korn spent three hours early Sunday chasing two over-zealous drivers. Today, one motorist was $80 and costs poorer and the other has a warrant on the way for his arrest. He didn't show up for the municipal court session.

In the first chase, Korn was after Albert E. Hergatt, 114 Distl avenue.

Korn testified that he began chasing Hergatt near Ashland road and that the chase switched to U. S. Route 30, through most of the east end streets of town and then out West Fourth street road where Korn halted Hergatt at the Shelby-Ontario road.

Korn said he clocked Hergatt at 80 miles per hour on Park avenue west and that he chased him through town with the patrol car's siren going full blast.

FINED ON 3 COUNTS

Hergatt was fined $50 and costs for unsafe operation, $25 and costs for speeding and $5 and costs for failure to have an operator's license. He was ordered not to drive for six months.

At 5 a. m. Korn saw Gabriel King, 216 North Franklin avenue, drive through a red light at Fifth and Diamond streets.

Unable to stop King with the cruiser's red warning light and flashlight, Korn pursued King, who kept on going. Korn said he chased King up Adams street to Fourth street, then east on Fourth to Elm street where King failed to stop at a stop sign. King then turned west on Fifth to Adams street, where he turned right and went through another red light, the officer said.

A telephone pole at an alley on Adams street finally stopped King. Charged with unsafe operation, King failed to appear in court today.

A preacher is called on to do a lot of queer things. But this morning, when Rev. John G. The puppies are at the parsonage next to the church and will be turned over to anyone wanting them, Rev. Gensel said. He has no idea who left the orphan puppies.

Sand, Salt, and Cinders Are Ready For First Major Snow

The street department is ready for the first snowfall, Street Supt. E. W. Davis announced today.

Sand, salt and cinders have been stockpiled for the first flurry of white and the snow removal equipment has been reconditioned for the first fight with the elements.

"We're all set to go," Davis said. "We've got two hundred tons of salt, 100 tons of sand and 200 cubic yards of cinders in readiness."

The equipment that is standing by for the first snowstorm includes a front-end loader, two road graders (used as plows) and two trucks with mounted snowplows. In addition, two trucks with newly-purchased fully automatic sand and salt spreaders are ready.

The new spreaders, capable of doing the work of six manually operated spreaders, can spray the entire width of a street with salt.

Davis issued an advanced warning to motorists to stay 20 to 30 feet behind the spreaders when they are in operation. The whirling spreader wheel, Davis said, is capable of shearing metal, and the salt, being thrown out by centrifugal force, can nick the paint on cars.

Browns Take Easy Victory Over Yankees

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK — The Cleveland Browns are one of the truly great football teams in the history of the professional game.

They won their 20th game in a row yesterday by defeating the New York Yankees and appear to be the nearest thing to an unbeatable combination since the heyday of the Chicago Bears.

The latter club generally is regarded as the most consistently good cash and carry outfit the game has seen and in peak years the Bears have been a pleasure to watch. They have had clubs that could do everything, and they did it in a rock 'em and sock 'em way that delighted spectators.

The Browns are just about as interesting to watch and undoubtedly will be welcomed into the National league if the All-America folds up after this season.

THE UNBEATEN Browns and the San Francisco 49'ers both reportedly are being courted by the National, but if a choice had to be made between the two the Browns would be the club to be picked.

Coach Buck Shaw's 49'ers are almost equally adept, but the fact remains that they can't beat the Browns, who through yesterday's game have won 11 starts this season as part of their 20-straight without a defeat.

They have won 13 in a row since being tied last season by the New York Yankees. In fact, the Browns have lost only three games in the three years since the league was organized. They have been the league champions in both previous seasons of the league's existence and figure to repeat this time.

★

THE BROWNS play with the spirit and dash and enthusiasm of a hopped up high school team trying to win a state championship, and succeed because of the excellence of their personnel, plus sound coaching.

And, as mentioned, they come up with an interesting brand of football combining power, speed and aerial fireworks.

The National league will be a better league with this club in its ranks, when and if that happens while the Browns are still going strong.

With everybody losing money this season, it seems likely that the Browns will be over in the other circuit as early as next season, whereupon some of the outmoded teams must step all the harder.

Cleveland 11 Romps To 34-21 Win

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—The crippled Cleveland Browns arrived in Los Angeles today to prepare for their second of three games to be played within eight days.

The Clevelanders tangle with the Dons on Thanksgiving day and meet San Francisco Sunday.

Three more Browns were added to the growing list of casualties yesterday as the All-American conference champs downed the New York Yankees, 34-21, before 49,931 fans at Yankee stadium. It was the seventh time Cleveland has dropped the Yanks.

LAVELLI GOES OUT

When the Browns entered the game they were without the services of Left End Mac Speedie, who suffered a shoulder separation in the game with San Francisco. Before the end of the first period Right End Dante Lavelli was sidelined with a face injury.

A few minutes later, Halfback Edgar Jones left the field with a twisted ankle and Tackle Chubby Grigg limped to the bench.

Nevertheless, the Browns had little trouble defeating the Yanks. Within the first eight minutes of the game the Clevelanders had scored two touchdowns.

Marion Motley took a screen pass from Otto Graham in the first few minutes and raced 79 yards for six points. Ara Parseghian intercepted a pass a few plays after the Browns had kicked off and scampered down to the New York three-yard marker, from where Edgar Jones blasted over four plays later.

TWO QUICK ONES

The Yanks came back with two quick touchdowns in the second period, however, to tie the count at 14 all.

A pass into the end zone from Pete Layden to Bruce Alford accounted for the first New York score in the second period. Otto Schnellbacher intercepted a pass from Otto Graham intended for John Yonakor and had a clear path to the goal line for six more points.

Motley scored the final Cleveland touchdown in the third canto on a 12-yard power drive.

Bob Cowan was responsible for the other Cleveland score, a nine-yard scamper off tackle in the second period.

GETS TWO FIELDERS

Besides kicking all the extra points for the Brownies, Lou Groza added two field goals to his record. Both were kicked in the second period and went 34 and 12 yards, respectively.

Although the Yanks held the edge in first down and yards gained rushing, the Clevelanders racked up a total offense of 334 yards as compared to 247 for New York.

Graham, having one of his "off" days, completed only nine of 23 passes attempted for 133 yards.

Los Angeles needed Ban Agajanian's 10-yard field goal in the last period to defeat Baltimore, 17 to 14, and that—coupled with the Yankee defeat — hoisted idle Buffalo into the eastern division lead. New York, Baltimore and Buffalo were tied before yesterday's games.

Frankie Albert was the big gun in the point-peppered performance at Brooklyn yesterday as San Francisco scooted up, down, and around the field to a 63 to 40 victory over the Dodgers. Albert passed to four touchdowns and ran to two in this preview of the basketball season.

ACTION! CAMERA!—It's camera time at West Point as the Cadets work out for their annual game with Navy. In other games rolled on the Zanesville alleys, Ashland Brad and Chuck's took two of three from Mt. Vernon Grammac recreation and Zanesville Roberts Jewelers swept three from the Coshocton Palace five.

★

Mansfield Liederkranz defeated Cady's Restaurant in two of three games yesterday in a NCO bowling match on the Norwalk alleys. Liederkranz had 2,647 pins to 2,519 for Norwalk.

Philadelphia Team Moves Nearer Title

(By United Press)

Philadelphia's hard-driving Eagles, once the scapegoats of National Football league, continued moving methodically toward their second successive eastern division title today, favored by both the experts and the schedule.

The Eagles, who now have to face only Pittsburgh, Boston and Detroit before the end of the season, took a one-and-a-half game lead in the eastern division yesterday by battering the Washington Redskins, 42 to 21.

Once again it was Tommy Thompson's passing and Steve Van Buren's ground gaining which spearheaded Philadelphia to victory. The curly-haired Van Buren rolled for 171 yards in 29 tries and Thompson completed 12 to 17 passes, including three touchdowns, as the Eagles took their seventh straight contest. Sammy Baugh's two touchdown passes prevented the game from developing into a complete rout.

The two Chicago teams continued to share the western division lead as the Bears trampled the Boston Yanks, 51 to 17, and the Cardinals squeaked by the Los Angeles Rams, 27 to 24.

SCORES THREE

Frank Minini, rangy Bear halfback, stood out by scoring Chicago's tree TD's in the third period. Pat Harder was the man most responsible for the Cardinals' narrow triumph over the stubborn Rams. The former Wisconsin ace added to his league scoring lead by scoring one touchdown, booting two field goals and kicking three points' after touchdown.

Chuckin' Charley Conerly was virtually the whole show in the New York Giants' crushing 49 to 3 victory over Green Bay Completing 20 passes out of 30 for a total of 306 yards, Conerly left the game to allow the Giant second stringers to mop up after the third period. Ted Fritsch's first period field goal saved Green Bay from being shutout.

Detroit's Lions, paced by Bill Dudley's two touchdowns and Marv Pregulman's 33-yard field goal, edged the Pittsburgh Steelers, 17 to 14. Both Detroit touchdowns resulted from Pittsburgh fumbles.

Ohio Gridiron Season Ending For Colleges

COLUMBUS, —(AP)— Except for a Thanksgiving day four-game epilog, Ohio's collegiate football sea on was wrapped up today and tucked away in the record books.

Heidelberg's Student Princes were out in front in every department. The Tiffin Terrors won nine straight, a figure which can't be matched; hold the unapproachable scoring mark with 305 points, and their 26-point total allowed nine opponents has a deadlock on the defensive laurels.

Denison's big red has a good talking point if the Granville Gladiators care to challenge the Princes. The Denisons won 10 straight a year ago and came back for eight this season, and there's an old sports axiom which decrees "You can't claim a championship until you whip the champion."

Denison, incidentally, is second in scoring with 277 in eight games, giving the Big Red an average of 34.8 per games to 33.4 for the Princes.

Bowling Green and Wilberforce State, bidding for a share of the state laurels, lost their chance Saturday when both were tied. The high-flying Falcons ran up 13 point in the first period over John Carroll, but the Blue Streaks came roaring back to tie at that figure, while Wilberforce State was deadlocked at 12-12 by West Virginia State.

Top game on Thursday's slate sends Miami to Cincinnati to settle the Mid-American conference championship. The Redskins and Bearcats have won three each in the loop, but the loser will drop to a second-place tie with Western Michigan which trounced Ohio U. 40 to 7, Saturday.

Other games on the turkey day windup schedule are Dayton at Chattanooga, Mount Union at Wooster and Case at Western Reserve.

Figures Lie In Records Of 2 Teams

By FRITZ HOWELL
(Ohio (AP) Sports Editor.)

COLUMBUS—When you take a look at the figures, it's difficult to see how Michigan could win the Big Nine football championship with six straight wins—and Ohio State finish with three victories and three defeats.

The Bucks bowed to the wily Wolves Saturday by 13 to 3 before the second largest crowd ever to jam the Buckeye stadium, 82,754, most of whom were singing the praises of the defeated Bucks.

WON 23rd GAME

The Wolverines, winning their 23rd straight game, rounded out the campaign in Saturday's fray, as did the Bucks. Ohio wound up with six wins and three losses, a fine showing after last season's record of two victories, six losses and a tie.

But to get back to the season's statistics of the Wolverines and the Bucks! Take a look at 'em, and then try to figure out how one team could win nine straight and the other lose three.

	Mich.	Op.	Ohio	Op.
First Downs	134	100	136	86
Passes Attempted	1258	789	1302	1087
Passes Completed	76	74	56	52
Yards by Passing	1355	1359	827	683
Total Plays	576	340	600	476
Total Yards Gained	2613	1846	2727	1690
Yards Kicks Returned	626		757
Passes Intercepted By	21	7	22	13
Yds Interceptions Ret	226		276
Ball Lost On Fumbles	10		13
Yards Penalized	281		389
Touchdowns Passes	15	3	10	3
Touchdowns By Rush	22	3	16	11

Even a quick look shows Ohio led in first downs, both on offense and defense; had a higher percentage on both offense and defense in passing; yielded the yardage laurels at passing, but more than made it up on the ground for an overall margin; ran more plays and allowed the opposition fewer chances with the ball; had a wide margin in kicks and passes returned, and lost the ball six less times than the Wolves on fumbles.

But the Michigans must have boasted a punch not disclosed in the figures, for they rolled to 252 points and allowed only 44, while Ohio scored 184 and allowed 94 in the same number of games.

In the four big methods of gaining ground, rushing, passing, pass interception and kick returns—minus the penalties—the Bucks had a 3423-yard total for the season, while the Wolverines totaled 3184. Doesn't look like a difference of 11 touchdowns there, does it?

Tough To Pick Ohio Grid King

(By International News Service)

The choice of a mythical Ohio high school football champion was today about the same task that faced all the king's horses and all the king's men in putting humpty-dumpty together again.

Two upsets Saturday—although not startling or unexpected—left not a single major schoolboy team in the state with a perfect record, unless such schools as Gallipolis, Circleville and Kenton are considered in the "fast" classification.

The two teams that scored Saturday's upsets are bound to come in for a lot of consideration for the title. Massillon ruined Canton McKinley's perfect season with a 21 to 12 victory, and Hamilton defeated once-tied Middletown, 19 to 15.

However, Martins Ferry's Purple Riders can claim the only perfect record in Ohio competition, including a 6 to 0 Friday night win over Mansfield, upsetters of Hamilton. Only blot on the Ohio River entry is a scoreless tie with Triadelphia of West Virginia.

Newark also has a perfect record marred only by a tie, that tie being played against Middletown early in the season.

Massillon, upsetters of Canton McKinley, lost earlier in the season to Alliance, which in turn lost its only game to Canton McKinley. Lakewood also boasts an 8-1 record, Canton McKinley being the only winner over the Cleveland suburb.

Records of the leading teams in the state—won, lost and tied—include:

Canton McKinley 9-1; Middletown 9-1-1; Massillon 9-1, Newark 8-0-1; Martins Ferry 9-0-1; Lakewood 8-1; Alliance 8-1; Hamilton 9-1, Gallipolis 9-0; New Philadelphia 9-1; Circleville 8-0; Kenton 9-0.

Like the presidential polls, this year's high school polls on the "Big Ten" seemed to have an adverse effect. Teams given high praise and high rating were knocked off just about as soon as their rankings were played up on the radio and in the newspapers.

Joe Whisler Gets Press Grid 'Cup'

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Joe Whisler, thundering 225-pound Ohio State fullback, will receive the Cleveland Press trophy tomorrow night as the Bucks' most valuable player of 1948.

Whisler, 25-year-old veteran of three years Navy service, was chosen as the most valuable player by the OSU coaching staff. He has been the number one offensive fullback for the past three years.

Rose, Cotton Bowls Choose Teams Today

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two of the fancier bowls-Rose and Cotton, choose their Jan. 1 lineup today, but fans must wait another week to learn the rival attraction in Dixie's sugar and orange fixtures.

Northwestern needs only the big nine's formal tap to start making plans for the Pasadena junket.

An announcement from both ends has been promised today.

Northestern qualified for the assignment of lashing Illinois, Saturday, 20-7, and finishing second in the conference to Michigan, which is ineligible to do a report job at Pasadena.

TOUGH DECISION

The west coast decision is tougher. California and Oregon closed in a tie for the conference championship, the Bears with six victories and the Webfoots with seven against no defeats in the league. But Oregon lost to Michigan outside while California went all the way without a blemish.

In the event of a tie in the Pacific coast vote, the nod goes to Oregon because it has been longer since the webfoots were in the bowl.

Southern Methodist clinched the host spot in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas by humbling Baylor, 13-6. Today the mustant players vote on their opponent from a list of available teams submitted by the Bowl committee.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our dear son and Brother George W. Kelley S 2/c, who lost his life at sea, November, 1943
When my Son Georgie joined the Navy,
He served with courage and pride.
He accepted what laid ahead and used his Mother's love as his guide.
Then I was expecting him home on furlough
And I was so happy that day but instead
I got word from Washington to say—
Your son George enroute home was killed part way.

His chair is empty and our hearts are sore
We know we'll never see our darling any more
You were so kind, Georgie and loved by all.
We know you had to go when God called
We miss you so.
Mother, Mrs. Clara Spayde.
Sisters, Mrs. Geneva Sanborn and Mrs. Clara Billotte.
Brother Mr. Robert Keller.

IN MEMORY of my mother Mrs. Curt Crowner who passed away 8 years ago today. May wither and decay the flowers placed upon your grave but the love for you who sleeps beneath will never fade away. Daughter Jessie Shambaugh, sister Olive Perkins, Grace Pulver.

Bucks To Pick New Captain

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Ohio State's surprisingly successful football squad will be showered with plaudits tonight for a job well done—and a football captain will be chosen for next season.

The occasion will be the annual football appreciation dinner which will honor more than 170 Ohio State football players ranging from the 150 pound squad through the freshman and junior varsity to the varsity squad.

The varsity squad will meet before the banquet to vote on its captain and the result will be announced after the dinner by departing Captain Dave Templeton, former Mansfield gridder.

15 College Grid Teams Still Hold Unbeaten Records

NEW YORK, — (UP) — Just 15 perfect record football teams were left in college ranks today out of the thousands which started out last September in high hopes of unbeaten glory.

Of this number 11 had completed their seasons officially, although some of them will go on to risk their clean slates against opponents in post-season bowl sociables.

Five teams — Michigan, Notre Dame, Army, California, and Clemson—were so-called major eleven but all of the little toughies, Heidelberg, Denison, Alma, Michigan Tech, and Missouri valley in the midwest; Bloomsburg, Pa., Teachers, Wesleyan, and West Liverty, W. Va., State in the east; Sul Ros State in the southwest; and Occidential in the far west, had reason to hold up their heads just as proudly.

Call Off Game

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — Poor profits were blamed today for the announcement that the Ohio-Indiana Class D baseball league would drop its annual all-star game and shorten its playoff series.

Dairies Cut Milk Price at Willard

WILLARD—Dairies here have announced a reduction in retail prices of milk and other dairy products.

Milk is down a cent a quart, coffee cream two cents a half pint, whipping cream five cents a half pint, and chocolate milk two cents a quart.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — An 11-year-old girl died of asphyxiation today in a single-alarm fire in a 25-room boarding house on Cleveland's east side. The victim, at first believed to be Joanne Balough, 15, later was identified as Joanne's younger sister, Marilyn.

FATHER DIES

BUTLER — F. A. Barcus was called to Dennison Thursday evening by the death of his father, Jacob Barcus.

Hero's Body Being Returned

WILLARD—Mr. and Mrs. Alex S. Weinberg have received a telegram from the government stating that the body of their son, Pfc. Howard K. Weinberg is on the way home for interment.

Pfc. Weinberg was killed in action in eastern Germany on March 20, 1945. He was serving with the 36th Combat division. He entered the service soon after being graduated from Willard high school and was 20 years of age when he lost his life.

The funeral will be held at the Deutsch funeral home, 1486 Crawford road, Cleveland, the date depending upon the arrival of the body. Pfc. Weinberg was buried in a military cemetery at Avold, near Lyons, France. The Weinbergs are former residents of Cleveland.

Seals Mailed In Crawford

BUCYRUS — Five thousand Crawford county residents have received letters containing Christmas seals, Mrs. F. J. Gosser of Crestline, executive secretary of the Crawford County Tuberculosis and Health Association, announced today.

The major portion of the money derived from the stamps' sale will be used in Crawford county in fighting tuberculosis, James b. Krauter, Bucyrus, chairman of the campaign, said today.

During the past year, association funds were used in financing 11 clinics at Bucyrus City Hospital along with fluoroscopic examination of 287 persons and x-ray examinations given 89 others.

Zoos Swap Animals

U. S.-British Make Trade

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The tour of the Washington zoo got around to the Kusimanse, a mousy little critter from tropical Africa. (Scientific name: Crossarchus obscurus.)

That little guy, said Dr. William Mann, zoo head man, came on a trade from England. The doctor's special guest on the tour was Maj. Albert Pam, former treasurer of the Zoological Society of London. The major nodded.

"It was like this," said Dr. Mann. "I was having a little zooey chat in England with Dr. Geoffrey Vevers, the director of the London zoo, one day last summer. I admired his Kusimanse. I said 'you folks have three of these things and the United States has none.'"

Maj. Pam squirmed a little in the presence of the press as though he knew what was coming, which he probably did.

Well, Dr. Mann talked the British zoo-man out of one of his prizes, but before he closed the deal he said he would have to call Washington to see if his zoo had an extra cage.

He picked up Dr. Vevers' phone and called his lieutenant in our capital. After he had finished he called the operator and learned the call cost $15, including tax.

Dr. Mann put his lunch hook into his money pocket, but the Briton nay-nayed him.

"Why fool with the silly exchange of dollars," said the London man. "We'll make a trade. What I would like in exchange for my Kusimanse is a pair of marmots."

What the British call marmots, Americans call prairie dogs. Dr. Mann said he thought he could oblige and of course, he did.

Our tour yesterday turned then to the reptile house and the Washington man gave the Briton his dues.

"The design of this house is a direct steal from the London zoo," he said. "Illumination in the cages. The false bottoms that allow the heat to come up from the floor instead of pouring in from the top. We save the lives of a lot of animals—thanks to the tips I got from the British."

The alligator snapping turtle (Macochelys temminickii) slept happily through the noise that was going on outside his cage. It was 80 inside, just like a turtle of his kind likes. Outside where people were, it was like what people like. About 68.

Another steal from the London zoo. The right temperature for animals; ditto for humans.

Economist Raps Dems

WASHINGTON —(AP— Economist Harold G. Moulton said today the Truman administration attempted in 1946 to "control the vitals of free enterprise"—something, he said, which Franklin D. Roosevelt never tried.

The president of the Brookings Institution, a private research organization, declared that while the Roosevelt reform measures "did come in conflict with the private enterprise system," they did not "strike directly at the basic principle."

But, he said, Mr. Truman's postwar effort to keep wartime controls on such things as prices was a development "much more far-reaching in its potential impact upon the operation of the private enterprise system."

In a pamphlet on "economic systems"—one chapter of a larger work to be published by the institution later—Moulton said: "Ostensibly these controls were to be retained only to guide and stabilize the economy during the period of transition, but there were many within the administration who were interested in their permanent use."

Seek Insane Man Who Stuffed Child In Hotel Drawer

Tiny Boy Dies After Brutalities

Police Look For Army Vet

ST. LOUIS — (UP) — Police searched three states today for William Pollard of Huntington, W. Va., a former army mental hospital patient suspected of the sex-slaying of a two-year-old boy whose brutally beaten body was stuffed in a hotel room dresser drawer here Saturday.

A fisherman, who lives on Highway 66 north of here, belatedly reported to police yesterday that a man who called himself Nichols asked him for help Saturday night when his car broke down. The report intensified the search in northern Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

Police think that Pollard was the man who registered at the hotel last Tuesday as Joseph H. Nichols of Boston. The man, a hulking 220-pounder, carried the sleeping boy in his arms when he registered. He paid for the room in advance and left the next day without being seen.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Betty Nichols, 22, Huntington, identified the body yesterday as that of the older of her two sons, Joseph E. Nichols.

Dry-eyed at first when she identified the body from a police photograph, she wept when she visited the morgue.

"Why would anyone want to do such a thing," she sobbed.

When the young mother asked: "How was he killed?" detectives answered that he had been "badly punished."

Authorities said that tests showed the boy was sexually violated and beaten so badly that he died of internal hemorrhage. They said it was possible that he had lain in the drawer alive for a day before he died.

Mrs. Nichols, who reported the boy missing Monday, said she left the boy with Pollard while she visited her husband, Joseph, who is a patient at an army mental hospital at Chillicothe, O. She said her husband wrote her a letter asking her to "be nice" to Pollard.

She rushed here from Huntington after a maid discovered the body in the American hotel Saturday. She was accompanied by the little boy's grandmother who collapsed during the identification.

A couple who occupied the room after the man left were exonerated by the police. They said they were unaware that the body was in the drawer.

Chief of Police Jeremiah O'Connel said that he had been informed by West Virginia authorities that Pollard had been a mental patient three times.

Warns Again On Decorations

With mercantile establishments and other public places preparing to decorate for Christmas, Fire Chief L. J. Steele today renewed his plea for cooperation with the rules and regulations concerning such decorations.

He said that merchants in doubt should contact him for approval or suggestions concerning suitable displays.

Chief Steele has banned the use of evergreens in all public places in addition to specifying what types of materials can be used. Furthermore, he has warned that the state law prohibiting smoking in mercantile establishments will be strictly enforced.

Third Party Seeks Spot On Ballot

Progressives Ask Recognition

COLUMBUS, — (AP) — The Ohio Progressive party set out today to get official recognition as a political organization.

Dr. Oliver S. Loud, chairman of the party's state central committee, announced after a meeting last night that 700,000 signatures would be sought on petitions asking the secretary of state for a permanent spot on future Ohio ballots. Should the drive succeed, the party would have to poll at least ten percent of the vote in an election to retain the status.

The committee also voted to ask reform of the election laws by the next legislature "so that people can vote for anyone they want," Dr. Loud said.

Under a state supreme court ruling, the party was unable to put the names of Henry A. Wallace, its presidential candidate, and Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho), the vice presidential candidate, on the ballot in the Nov. 2 election.

The names of the 25 presidential elector candidates were listed as independents, and Republican Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel ruled that a voter marking an "X" for any of them and in the circle for a straight ticket Republican or Democratic presidential ballot had invalidated the ballot.

The supreme court decision was given last July just before a special session of the Legislature. Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a Republican, was reported ready to ask the Legislature to change the election laws to simplify placing the names of minor party candidates on the ballot.

He did not include it in the call, however, after the decision was rendered.

Dr. Loud said the committee also voted to ask Governor Herbert to include in any call for another special session these proposals:

1—To increase old age pensions to $60 a month and start paying them at the age of 60. The present mayimum is $55, and the starting age 65.

2—To appropriate money for public housing and to enable cities to set up public housing programs.

3—To establish a fair employment practices commission.

4—To give more financial aid to cities.

Should no special session be called, he said, the requests will be made of the new legislature, which meets Jan. 3.

Hot Fight Looms For CIO Meet

PORTLAND, ORE., — AP) — The CIO opens its tenth convention today with the anti-communist right wing in full control and determined to deliver further heavy blows to the dwindling left wing.

Right-wingers were not agreed on how far to carry their crusade.

The group of left-wing leaders who supported Henry Wallace for president and have opposed the Marshall plan of European aid had their problem, too: how far to resist: Lee Pressman, former CIO general counsel, arrived in Portland to advise them on strategy.

President Philip Murray, swinging the gavel over an organization that is deighted over the national elections and is more nearly united than it has been in years, issued his annual report without discussing the communist issue

But that was the subject in everybody's conversation as about 700 delegates from 40 unions assembled in Portland's Masonic Temple.

Murray in his report laid down an 8-point "essential" economic program for insuring a "healthy domestic economy."

He listed (1) price controls; (2) an excess profits tax; (3) control of essential materials; 4) an "all-out attack" on business monopoly; 5) farm price supports; (6) a minimum wage of $1 and hour; (7) low-cost public housing; (8) plant expansion in basic industries.

He did not demand a fourth round of postwar wage increases. But that subject will be discussed in the convention.

The right wingers have alrady scored one impressive victory. The CIO executive board by a 38-5 vote revoked the charter of the New York City CIO council on the ground of "slavish adherence" to communist party dictates.

Two Homes, Garage Hit By Flames

Spilled Gasoline, Blast Start Fires

Fires resulting from the explosion of a kerosene water heater and spilled gasoline Sunday damaged a home in Jackson township near Shelby and a home and garage in Ashland. No one was injured.

Damage at the home of Leroy Crall in Jackson township was estimated at $1,200 after flames, started by a water heater explosion, gutted the kitchen and dining room Sunday morning.

The Crall home is on the Bowman street road

Shelby firefighters fought the blaze for three hours before it could be brought under control.

Shelby firemen answered a call last night to the home of Henry Cline, 14 Clark avenue, where soot ignated in a chimney causing damage of approximately $25

Gasoline spilled on a lighted gas stove by a customer in the repair garage owned by Daniel Stewart at his home, 12th and Elm streets, Ashland, resulted in heavy damage to the garage and adjoining four-room living quarters Sunday afternoon.

According to Ashland firemen, who fought the blaze for two hours a customer examining some gas tanks, spilled gas on the stove. The fire spread to an acetylene tank which broke into flames. Stewart and the customer escaped but the equipment in the garage was badly damaged, the building was charred and living quarters were damaged by smoke and flames The loss is partly covered by insurance, Stewart told firemen.

Pastor Uses Food Basket In Sermon

"Our Stewardship Basket," filled with food was used by Rev Carveth P Mitchell in his sermon yesterday to children of the First Lutheran church Yesterday was Stewardship day for the congregation.

In the basket were various types of food ranging from one wiener to a chicken. In illustrating his talk, Rev Mitchell said that several hundred church members gave two cents, or the price of one third of a wiener, each Sunday From then on, weekly contributions ranged from 12 cents to about $2 50 or the price of a small chicken

Only 14 members out of the 3,000 are giving the price of a chicken each week. Rev Mitchell pointed out In the basket were a steak, valued at $1 50 a piece of cheese, at 75 cents, a bottle of milk, between 20 and 25 cents a slice of watermelon at 18 cents, a bunch of carrots, at 12 cents and the wiener

Later about 150 men were commissioned for the "every member canvass" of the church.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

One observer comments: "Smoked turkey is all right—except for the price."

The suggestion is offered that an automobile which is safe early in the evening is likely to turn over if kept out too late.

More literally than at any other time in history, Uncle Sam is sitting on top of the world. And that is all the more reason for him to sit more gently than ever before.

Mansfield's Overcrowded Post Office

THE CUSTOMARY annual plea to "do your Christmas mailing early" is given added emphasis in Mansfield this year because of the difficulties being encountered in handling an immense volume of parcel post, in addition to regular mail, under crowded conditions existing at the local post office.

The problem, as revealed by Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford, in an article in yesterday's News-Journal, revolves around the lack of space in which to handle the increasing number of parcel post packages—a phase of the business which was unforeseen when the present federal building came into use around 35 years ago.

Slight relief from the present overstrain of facilities is seen in prospective remodeling of the present building, which, among other things, is to provide an increase of servicing space in the basement, but real solution lies in carrying through plans for use of space to the east, already purchased and cleared by the government, for substantial enlargement of the post office.

This centrally located site is quite generally recognized as an excellent one for the post office and the space available for enlargement is regarded as ample to meet foreseeable future needs of this growing city.

But, for the present, "Mail Early" is put in the form of an appeal to Mansfielders to help in relieving the strain on post office employes during the next few weeks.

Foreign Trade Badly Out of Balance

ALTHOUGH great amounts of goods are being exported under the foreign relief programs, total United States exports for this year will be about 15 per cent less than those of last year, according to a commerce department estimate.

Imports this year are running about 22 per cent higher than last year. But the startling fact is that, despite the combined effect of these two changes, the excess of exports over imports for this year will be well over seven billion dollars. In the years between the wars, the amount ranged generally from about a quarter-billion to a billion dollars.

Officials at the commerce department do not expect a return to trade levels like those existing before the war, which were much lower as to exports, imports and the difference between the two. They suggest it would be desirable to increase imports to make an approximate balance with exports at the present level, so that the present export market for American goods could be continued.

The balance must be reached in some way, but it would be better to obtain it with more goods and more trade than by choking off exports, which would have depressing effects on all industry and commerce.

An exact balance never needs to be reached as a matter of economic soundness, because the money spent abroad by American tourists can compensate for some consistent excess of exports over imports. But troublesome dollar shortages abroad will persist until an approximate trade balance is achieved.

Gives Assurance Next Year's Coming

THERE'S ALWAYS something pleasant about the coming of that familiar booklet, "The Old Farmer's Almanac," which is just at hand in its 157th annual edition—filled to the brim with more of this and that than can be found anywhere else in slightly fewer than 100 printed pages.

It is the weather, as usual, that is given primary attention, but so many other things are touched upon that the range of reader interest extends much further than the farm families for which it is chiefly designed.

Some of the information given in earlier days of the publication are missing—such as carriage fares, improvements in candles, roads and distances from tavern to tavern, politicians' salaries, how to make cheese, and the like. But other subjects have proved popular through the years and all these have been retained and sometimes elaborated.

While there's so much talk about "objectionable" books, the Old Farmer's Almanac can be confidently recommended as entirely "unobjectionable."

Link With Moscow Guarded Secret

THE FRENCH parliament recently debated charges that the Communist International Information Bureau, commonly called the Cominform, gave orders to French communists to stage the waves of strikes in that country, and helped finance them. Only the very naive would expect any provable conclusion.

Many Americans feel certain in their own minds that the organized communists in this country accept without intelligent questioning a line of policy laid down in Moscow. It is one thing to believe this but quite another thing to prove it. Most communists give every indication of believing that it is only coincidence that their arguments are so strikingly similar to the so-called "party line" of the Cominform.

Those who see danger in communist organizations can go on looking for a chain of command between them and Moscow. But if they find one, it will be because the Cominform has failed in one of its purposes, which is to obscure that chain where it has been established.

Kettering's Estimate of Railroads

CHARLES F. KETTERING has made a statement about the railroad industry which is worth repeating. "No matter what other forms of transportation do," he said, "or what new ones come into being, the railroads will remain the backbone of transportation. The amazing progress made by the railroads in their first century is only a promise of what they will do."

The railroads have interconnected every section of a far-flung nation in a single century. Still, as Mr. Kettering said, that is only a promise of what is to be done in the future.

A radio comedian has instructed his musicians not to laugh at his jokes—which, after all, shouldn't be too difficult.

Washington Calling

Big China; Little Greece

By MARQUIS CHILDS

IN THE struggle against world communism, China and Greece are two focal points that illustrate the difficulties of the United States' position with startling clarity. They are properly linked together, the big and the little, since they are actually one and the same riddle.

Greece is so small a country that a few hundred million dollars from America can prop up a weak government and prevent the disaster of communist dictatorship. To date, that is all the American intervention has achieved.

China is so vast and the need is so great that even if tens of billions of dollars had been expended during the past two and a half years, the tragedy, that now seems to be approaching a culmination, might not have been prevented.

More material and a more energetic China policy probably only would have sustained the Chiang Kai-Shek government for a longer time.

But lack of this process of merely buying time are grim realities that will not be denied. In Greece there is still the opportunity to come to grips with those realities. In this connection an authority with a right to speak has just published a book which gets at the heart of the matter more nearly than anyone else has done to date. Col. C. M. Woodhouse, whose "Apple of Discord" has been brought out in England, was commander of the allied military mission to the Greek guerrilla forces through the war.

Col. Woodhouse's opinions cannot be dismissed by the Athens politicians as those of a "red." He is a member of the conservation party and in the war's aftermath, he was one of Winston Churchill's chief advisers on Greece. He has gone through the trial and torment of the Greek people for the past seven years and he sees it with the detachment of an expert who nevertheless has a deep feeling for the people themselves.

What emerges from his book, and one can hope it will be published in this country at once, is that the government of Athens is a friction. With its cabinet crises, its passionate constitutional quarrels, it is an unreal drama that unfolds in a kind of political Shanghri-La.

For the problems in Greece, Woodhouse says, "are organic rather than political." While the unreal drama is played out on the Athens stage, a desperately poor and superstitious peasantry is starving to death.

* * *

Reality Being Ignored.

THE PLAYERS in the Athens drama often know less about actual conditions in the provinces than the experts sent to Greece by the United Nations and from this country in connection with U.S. aid.

In cosmopolitan Athens, with its thin gilding of surface wealth, they must shut out the reality if they are to play their parts properly.

United States aid has kept this drama in being. Without it there would in all probability, in Col. Woodhouses' view, have been first a dictatorship of the right to be followed fairly shortly by a dictatorship of the communist left.

But American patience and American dollars will not continue forever merely as a prop for things as they are and the unreality of the Athens debating society. The future presents a limited choice.

Perhaps the only alternative is to pour in aid on a much larger scale in an effort to revitalize Greece by building TVA's and developing new resources. This is the prescription of several missions that have visited the country.

If we were to do that, and we certainly are not doing it now, then we would have to decide what instruments to work with in Greece.

Buying time is essential, but it is also essential to know what to do with that dearly bought time.

The Nation Today

Presenting a Puzzler

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Here's a nice little one you can try on your wife or the man next door—and then duck.

In the new Congress of 1949 how should your senator or congressman—be he Democrat or Republican—vote:

1. The way his party leaders want him to?

2. The way his constituents—meaning you, the people back in his district—tell him they want him to vote?

3. Or use his own head—no matter what your or the party leaders say—and vote as he wants?

Which of the three ways would make you feel he's doing the job for which he was elected?

Will you call him a party hack if he goes along doing just what his party leaders tell him? On the other hand, do you think he should be entirely guided by the desires of the people back home?

But when he's voting in Congress, he's mostly voting on things that affect the whole country, not just his district.

So, should he put the interests of his district above those of the country as a whole? And how would you feel if he did?

Right on this point—to please the people back home and get something they want — congressmen sometimes make deals by agreeing that:

I'll - vote - for - your - pet-bill-if-you"-vote-for-mine. Do you think that is right?

* * *

On the Other Hand.

BUT SUPPOSE your man in Congress disregards the urgings of his party leaders and your pleas back home and votes as he pleases.

Would you blame him? He might answer that he's trying to do an honest job by using his own judgment on each issue as it arises.

He could say that, with all the information available to him and not to you, he can decide better what's best. So it's a question:

Did you help elect your congressman because you thought he was a good man and you were willing to trust him to do what he thought right? Or because you want him to look out for your special interests? Or because you are a member of his party and want him to do what the party says?

In actual practice most congressmen—I guess all—at one time or another do all three things mentioned above, depending on the issue in each case.

The Political Science Association says:

Where conflicts of interest arise between his district or state, his party and the country as a whole, he must remember that his primary obligation is to the general welfare."

In a speech on the job of a congressman, Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, has said:

"The average legislator, early in his career, discovers that there are certain interests, or prejudices of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with. . . .

"A difficult case is where the prejudice concerns the fundamental policy affecting the national welfare."

As an example he took the poll tax and isolationism. In his own state of Arkansas, people have to pay a poll tax before they can vote. Since it has not been abolished there, it must be assumed the people of Arkansas want it.

Is it of fundamental importance that Congress pass a bill to wipe out the poll tax in all states? Fulbright said he doesn't think so, no matter what anyone outside of Arkansas says. So, he said, "I shall follow the views of the people of my state."

But he said he thinks a strong United Nations is of fundamental importance. So even though he said the people of his state were against the U. N., he voted for it.

Barkley Will Be Active Vice President

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At Key West, happy, humble Harry Truman and his faithful sidekick, Alben Barkley, swam, fished and loafed. But though they didn't talk much shop, they left with a clear understanding of Barkley's new role in the administration.

It was agreed that the new vice president will serve as Senate majority leader and take an active hand in reorganizing Senate committees—right up to the day before inauguration.

Barkley will be needed for any purge of the Dixiecrats—if there is one.

After Jan. 20, it has been decided, the new vice president will operate as a working liaison between the President and Congress. He will do more than sit in the presiding chair for all tourists to look at, but will mingle actively in the corridors and use his influence in putting over Truman's program.

But that isn't all. Barkley will also sit in on cabinet meetings, will take some of the executive burdens from the President's shoulders.

Senator "Gets Religion".

WISCONSIN'S Senator Joe McCarthy has really got religion when it comes to public housing. Joe is now working among Republicans who blocked the Housing Bill in the 80th Congress to swing them around to public housing and slum clearance.

Though previously regarded as a tool of the real estate lobby, McCarthy now insists that he has always stood up for a liberal housing program.

He fought against public housing and slum clearance, he explains, because he feared these two provisions would drag the rest of the Housing Bill down to defeat.

Perhaps, like the Supreme Court, the senator from Wisconsin has read the election returns, but anyway he has now written Sen. Robert Taft for help to round up Republican votes for a bipartisan housing program—which would give the Democrats all they are asking. This is a little funny in view of the fact that Taft was an oroginal author of the Housing Bill and at the last session tried to get McCarthy to vote for it.

However, McCarthy has a couple ideas of his own which he wants to add. He will try: (1) to assign public housing units to needy families solely on the basis of need, as determined by social workers; (2) to relieve the Public Housing Administrator of all extra duties and permit him to devote his full time to public housing; and (3) to grant a 100 per cent secondary market for veterans' cooperatives so they will have no trouble making loans.

French "Merci Train".

ISOLATIONISTS frequently argue that Europe does not appreciate American aid; claim we are pouring food and dollars into an ungrateful, bottomless European pit.

Touring France today, however, are 49 boxcars, relics of World War I in which American troops traveled, which comprise the Train of Gratitude or "Merci Train" to the American people. The "Merci Train" is picking up gifts from the French people to the American exactly as the Friendship Train toured the United States one year ago, and the French train is a gesture of appreciation for the Friendship Train.

It is significant that the chief organizers of the Merci Train are French veterans. Spearhead of the movement is Commandant Guy de la Vasselais, French laison officer to General Pacton during the war. The idea of sending us boxcars which carried U.S. troops was conceived by the Association of French Railway Veterans.

But every cross-section of the French population is participating. President Auriol personally is contributing 49 porcelain vases of the famed Sevres variety. The French minister of agriculture has collected 49 bushes and trees from all over France. The French mint has struck of 49 sets of medals, some of them duplicates of medals given to Eisenhower and Patton.

The Verdun Veterans association has donated the original 1916 flag which flew over Verdun, inscribed with the historic words "On ne passe pas" (They shall not pass). The city of Caen, which withstood such devastating bombardment when Field Marshall Montgomery tried to oust the Germans after the Normandy landing, has sent 49 bronze school bells.

These are only a few of the priceless gifts sent by the French people. Incidentally, the French are sending no wines, perfumes, or luxury items—only gifts of sentimental and historic value.

Each of the 49 boxcars will be deposited, with its contents, in the 48 states, while the 49th will go to the District of Columbia to be turned over to government officials for the territory of Hawaii, which flew a special train to the mainland and contributed three carloads of sugar to the Friendship train.

At a time when so many international projects are being twisted or obstructed by political bias, here is a gesture from the French people to the American people sent in the spirit of openhanded friendliness.

Congress Does Deciding

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—The program upon which President Truman was re-elected is only so good as Congress makes it. That is the court to which the case of the people goes, come January, for a final decision.

To back up the President the people at the same time infiltrated the new 81st Congress with many new progressive Democrats pledged to carry out his program, especially from the East, the industrial Middle-West, the West and, to lesser extent, from the middle western farm belt.

These members come with a clear mandate fresh from the people. They reflect interest in housing, health and education aid, expanded and increased security for old age, minimum wage increase, protection for the farmer in his markets and prices, conservation of natural resources and extended reclamation and public power among other things.

But this mandate will be diluted in Congress, just as were others before in the Roosevelt New Deal years.

This is because of the seniority system in Congress which not only assigns chairmanships of committees which will have charge of the President's program on the single basis of longevity of service, but also affords less representation and less influence to new members than that to which such a mandate of the people entitles them. In other words the election can not carry its full weight in Congress.

It was the progressive wing of the Democratic party outside the South that made the Truman victory possible. The South contributed little.

In fact, as we know, there was actual revolt against the President in four southern states—Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina—which were carried by the Dixiecrats with the support of big economic interests that always have fought the sort of program that the President and progressives espoused.

There are 38 members of house and senate from these states, most of whom kept completely under cover in fear of the Dixiecrat revolt and did not lift a finger for the President.

They surely deserve little voice in councils of their party in Congress. Yet some of them are highly placed. Elsewhere in the South the result was, by and large, the re-elecion of incumbents who, because of the one-party system, do not come fresh from a contest over current political and economic issues.

* * *

Unfair Distribution.

YET the South will have the usual lion's share of key posts far out of proportion to its numerical strength either in the party or in Congress, just as the midwest always has an undue balance when Republicans are in power, as was the case in the 80th Congress.

This is because of the virtual certainty of long tenure for members from both sections which, under the seniority ruling always gives them a disproportionate number of key places.

While nothing can be done about the seniority system immediately to reflect more nearly the mandate of the election, Democratic leaders could, if they were so minded, see that newcomers representing the mandate were given due representation on important committees so that the will of the people was more nearly expressed in Congress.

And, beyond that, it would seem that there might very well be added to the Truman program in the next Congress a reform in the seniority system which is condemned generally by students of Congress as a negation of true parliamentary democracy.

The seniority system was left untouched in the 1946 congressional reorganization act which accomplished other reforms, though the joint congressional committee which framed that act was urged to abolish the system.

There are several proposals for selection of chairmen on other bases which will be discussed here subsequently.

The Farmer in the Dell.

After reading so much about how the farmer and the laborer had joined hands to win the election for President Truman, it was surprising to read about the National Co-operative Milk Producers' association action on the Taft-Hartley act.

Labor's top demand now is for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. And here is this farmer's group in convention, describing the law as a "great step forward toward industrial justice" and saying that, if amendments must be adopted, the statute "should be strengthened rather than weakened."

Farmer's Diary

Now He's Helping Harry

By CALVIN A. BYERS

IT WAS during the month before the 1948 election that a feed mill man, just for fun, had two sets of feed sacks printed with the profiles and the names of the Republican and the Democratic candidates for president.

Side by side, equal numbers of full sacks were piled, and farmers who came to buy were told "Pick your own! The feed'll be our own brand, whichever wins."

One old farmer stood and looked, then thoughtfully lifted off two sacks with Truman's picture on them, and came back for another. This time he took Dewey.

To the question on the mill man's face he said, "Wife's a Republican—Son and I, Democrats. How's it goin'?"

"That way," the business man answered, winking.

On election eve the two piles of feed sacks had dwindled to three on one side and two on the other. The miller was locking up when a hurried late customer drove up, and loaded on the last three sacks with Truman on them.

"I thought it was just a happenstance," said the miller later. "But right there and then I might have foretold the returns of the election! Instead, I bet on Dewey! We were all wrong together—wrong altogether! But the stunt was good for business, and it's been good for a lot of laughs at my expense ever since and, as I say, it won't change the kind of feed we sell one whit—no matter about politics."

* * *

"WHAT about your bet?" asked a bystander.

The miller's face grew rosy red. Twinkles deepened the crows' feet at the corner of each eye.

"I PAID my bet," he said. "Maybe you saw me hanging that long string of diapers out on the neighbor's clothesline? If you didn't, most all the neighborhood did! The fellow's a Democrat, named his baby Harry! Says him 'n me'll agree that 'a change is necessary.'"

Russians Race to Dominate the Orient

Siberia Seen as Origin of Red Advance

TOKYO, — (INS) — The hard-Russian core behing communist advances through Asia is in fast-developing Siberia.

There, from Khabarovsk on the Amur far north of Vladivostock, Marshall M. R. Malinovsky commands the far eastern front.

In Khabarovsk, Vladivostok, Komsomolsk, Irkutsk, Chita and in a dozen other places, the Russians are working feverishly to create a self-supporting industrial and agricultural empire from which all Asia can be dominated.

In that sense the Russians are the one people now in a position to challenge Japan for industrial leadership of the Orient.

The Russians know that they are in position to fill the industrial vacuum left by the Japanese collapse and are working overtime to tie northern Asia to their economic orbit before the Japanese can recover.

From the very beginning the Russians have planned and worked to make Manchuria and North Korea an integral part of their own far eastern economy.

Siberia is rich in timber, but the Siberian boom consumes more timber than Siberian lumberjacks can cut right now, so Korean lumber is imported.

Siberia has great areas which the Soviets plan to develop into rich farms some day, but the people aren't yet there to do the developing so Manchurian food is needed.

But Siberia is booming. Mines disgorge every type of metal. Factories turn out farm machinery, airplanes, trucks, automobiles, machine tools, tanks and plastics.

Shipyards roll cargo vessels up to 10,000 tons off their ways. Iron ore and coal are mined close to Komsomolsk and Chita, and both cities turn out steel.

Locomotives are built in Krasnoyarsk, alloy steel is smelted in Rubisovsk, pistons are made in Omsk and beryllium which is needed for atomic energy is mined and processed at Yakutia.

Railroads and highways are being built, and the natural waterways are being utilized.

Japanese prisoners of war are being kept in Siberia to work the railroads, the mines, the steel mills and the highways.

There are still nearly half a million Japanese held prisoner in Soviet territories, most of whom are in Siberia.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur has charged that the Russians are using these prisoners for slave labor to build up the Russian war potential.

Larceny Victims Will Get Refund

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The 500-odd used car customers of John W. Singleton may get a little of their money back in time for Christmas. Theodore R. Spilka, attorney for Morris R. Blaine, trustee in bankruptcy, said checks for five to six percent of claims would be sent out by them. In all the customers may get as much as eight percent, or about $160 each, eventually, he said. Singleton is serving a 10-to-70-year term in Ohio penitentiary for larceny by trick.

ATHENS —(U.P.)— Francis L. McShane, 43, of Newburgh, N. Y., who was kidnaped by Greek bandits a fortnight ago, has been released, American military sources said today.

Will Accept Summons, Spy Queen Says

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(UP)—Elizabeth Bently, self-confessed former communist spy courier, says she has not evaded a summons and willingly would accept one in the $100,000 slander suit brought against her by William W. Remington, former commerce department official.

Miss Bently met reporters before addressing 1,200 persons last night on "I was a Russian Spy," in which she repeated the details of her career brought out before the House Unamerican Activities committee.

"The matter of the law suit is entirely in the hands of my attorneys," she said. "And they have advised Remington's attorneys that a summons would be willingly accepted."

Jefferson Davis, later president of the confederacy, encouraged the importation of camels into the United States in 1855 when he was secretary of war.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Tuesday, November 23

THERE are indications of a definite upsurge of many projects of major importance, with a concentrated drive in putting these over with vigor and initiative. While preparation and techniques seem constructive and practical, yet an error of judgment, confused thinking, or other form of rush rather than reason, is likely to alienate the interest of those disposed to cooperate. Under such dubious rule, it might be easy to invite litigation, to offend friends, involve contracts or cause separations, in business as well as personal relations. Pause to analyze and to put over clever ideas or innovations.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves under a strong drive to inaugurate new projects, innovations or exceptionally brilliant plans or propositions in which special skills and ingenuity are ready for demonstration. However, a reckless or over-played hand may block the enterprise and result in withdrawal of those already interested. Shun cause for separations, offending friendly interests both in business and social or domestic affairs. Sign all contracts with precaution. Shun all carelessness and stick to facts and logic.

A child born on this day may have an ambitious and aspiring nature, with excellent opportunities for reaching high places. However, such drastic changes and surprises may not measure up to expectations.

Missionary Society Given Lesson Study

Mrs. W. A. Schrack and Mrs. J. H. Balliet were hostesses recently at the parish house for the Anna S. Kugler Missionary society of St. Matthews Lutheran church. Fifteen members were in attendance.

Mrs. Charles S. Sheriff gave the lesson study on "Missions Make Sense and Cents Make Missions." Mrs. Robert L. Smith conducted the devotions.

Mrs. J. H. Mollenkop, president, conducted the short business session. A baby layette for a missionary in Europe was completed.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of fall flowers.

Mrs. J. W. Ness and Mrs. C. N. Overmyer will be hostesses for the Christmas luncheon at the parish house Dec. 16 at 2:30 p. m.

A good combination for a vegetable dinner: snap beans, baked stuffed potatoes with mushrooms, buttered beets and perhaps spinach.

Reds Rebuild Monuments–Stalin Style!

Nazi Reminders Disappear From Berlin

BERLIN — (AP) — The Russians are tearing down the last reminders of Adolf Hitler in Berlin and even closing the hole in the ground in which he is believed to have died.

Rising in the place of Hitler's buildings and monuments are memorials to Josef Stalin and the Red army.

The Russians are using all the best materials from leftover Hitler structures for memorials of their own.

The last major relic of Hitler, his massive Reichs Chancellery, now is being torn down in the Soviet sector of the city.

The unheralded project was undertaken under a program of ruin removal in the Bezirk Mitte (central district) of Berlin. The order was to tear down or dynamite what remained of the government building which Hitler himself designed with the aid of Albert Speer. Along with it goes the "Fuehrer Balkon" (fuehrer balcony) from which Hitler used to address admiring crowds.

Long before this was undertaken the chancellery had been gutted by war damage and its fine Italian and Bavarian marbles dismantled by the Russians for use in construction of Soviet army war memorials in this conquered city. The fine woodwork also was taken by the Russians.

Now what's left of the Chancellery that can be salvaged will be used as building materials for German purposes. The ultimate residue also will serve a specified purpose.

The Russian-controlled "Berliner Zeitung" said the Chancellery debris will be used to fill up the cavity left by the blowing up of Hitler's spacious private air raid shelter in the Chancellery garden.

It was in this underground shelter that Hitler and Eva Braun were believed to have committed suicide, along with the entire Goebbels family, in the last days of the battle of Berlin.

ELSEWHERE IN SCIENCE

NEW YORK — (AP) — You have about a one in ten chance of getting peptic ulcers, says Dr. McLeod C. Wilson, medical director of the Travelers Insurance company, Hartford. It is estimated that "about 1,500,000 persons in the United States past age 10 are affected by peptic ulcers during a period of 10 years," he told the Association of Life Insurance Medical Directors of America. The majority of ulcers first appear in the age group 30 to 40.

Investigate Death

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Coroner Robert A. Evans was investigating the death of a 27-year-old Columbus mother, burned to death yesterday when fire raced through a three-room apartment. Firemen said Mrs. Goldie Johnson died about six hours after the flames apparently started in a chair in the living room.

Solve Auto Thefts

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Auto theft charges were to be filed today against two 18 year-old Columbus boys, and a juvenile complaint was to be filed against their 16-year-old friend. Police said Frank E. Fritchen, Ernest Frances and their younger companion admitted stealing at least six autos recently.

SINGER MISSING

HAYWARD, Wis. — (AP) — A single-engine monplane with singer Bobby Breen as a passenger disappeared on a 300-mile flight across Wisconsin yesterday bringing fears the ship may have crashed in an isolated forest area.

Italian-Born American Stars In Spanish Bullfight Movie

MADRID —(AP)— An Italian-born Brooklyn boy is the star of the first Spanish movie based on the life ond death of Manolete, famed on two continents as the world's champion bullfighter.

He is 29-year-old Jose Greco, top ballet dancer on the stages of the Iberian peninsula. It was Greco's ability as a dancer that won him the leading male role in the film "Manolete" or "A Toast to the Heavens."

Greco started his dancing career in 1933 with the Hippodrome Opera company of New York as an extra at $7.50 a performance. Well-paid by Spanish standards, he will receive about 125,000 pesetas ($12,000) for his first movie.

The picture does not try to tell the story of Manolete's life. Instead it uses the famed matador's success in Spain and America to tell the story of an idealistic friend who also rises to stardom in the arenas. Pretty Paquito Rico of the Spanish screen provides the love interest.

Greco's dancing carries a large part of the film. In fact, he relates, he was originally signed for a dancing part only. After screen tests, the scenario was rewritten and he was given the leading role. Florian Rey directs the film for Hercules films.

Before coming to Spain in 1946, Greco was the leading male dancer in the company of "Argentinita," whose Spanish ballets were popular in North and South America.

Greco says he became a dancer by accident. His elder sister, Norina Greco, now a concert singer, was taking dancing lessons and Jose, then a student at PS 155 in Brooklyn, had to accompany her to the studio daily. Out of sheer boredom he began lessons, too.
